

RESOURCES:

HELPFUL DEFINITIONS

Age Restricted Communities:

Communities that require at least one resident be typically at least age 55 and restricts anyone under 19 from being a permanent resident. Age restrictions may vary by community.

Independent Living:

Independent Living Communities are designed to enable independent seniors to enjoy a lifestyle filled with recreational, educational and social activities amongst other seniors.

Assisted Living:

Assisted Living provides a special combination of residential housing, personalized supportive services and care.

Nursing Homes:

Nursing Homes, or Skilled Nursing Facilities, are designed for seniors who are in need of 24-hour nursing care.

Continuing Care:

Continuing Care Retirement Communities (CCRC) are residential campuses that provide a continuum of care - from independent living, assisted living to skilled nursing care, all in one location.

Alzheimer's/Dementia Care:

Alzheimer's Care provides specialized care and housing tailored to the special needs of individuals with this disease and other related disorders.